How much does home battery storage cost?

Installing home battery storage typically costs between $6,000 and $18,000, according to live pricing from solar.com's installation network. Why such a wide range? The biggest factor is size, measured by how many kilowatt-hours (kWh) of electricity the battery can store. Battery systems can range from 5 to 40 kWh, depending on your energy needs.

What is the best home battery storage?

Because home battery storage has something to offer everyone--from backup power to bill savings to self-reliance. With this in mind, there is no single "best" battery. There are different solutions to meet the varying requirements and needs of homeowners across the country.

How much does a battery system cost?

Battery systems can range from 5 to 40 kWh, depending on your energy needs. Battery prices also vary by brand, capabilities, and installation factors. We'll explore these factors later. On average, it costs around $1,300 per kWh to install a battery before incentives. With the 30% federal tax credit applied, the cost is closer to $1,000 per kWh.

Do solar batteries back up a home?

Most solar batteries have enough power to back up circuits up to 30 amps. Therefore, the majority of battery systems do not back up the entire home, but rather just the circuits that are most important to the homeowner.

Are consumption-only batteries worth it?

So, consumption-only batteries enable all of the bill savings of a traditional backup battery at around 75% of the upfront cost - which can be well worth it for homeowners who aren't concerned with grid outages. Most batteries feature two numbers that represent their capacity to provide power.

Why are solar batteries so expensive?

There are a handful of factors that influence the price of solar batteries, but perhaps the greatest reason they are expensive is simply because residential-scale batteries are a newer technology, and new technologies tend to be expensive at first before rapidly falling in price as the market matures.
