How efficient are bifacial solar panels?

There are several. For starters, bifacial solar panels efficiency is higher than standard. Mono-side panels have a 17-21% energy conversion rate on average. When the rear side of a bi-module works at full capacity, its efficiency can reach 25-27%. Thus you need much less space to build a powerful solar system.

How long do bifacial solar panels last?

Standard solar panels usually have a 25-year warranty for performance. Bifacial panels come with a 30-year warranty. Besides, bifacial panels can be installed in a number of different ways -- for example, vertical installation is a viable option. Different configurations allow your installation to provide more power in different times of the day.

Are bifacial panels cost-effective?

However, you have to take into consideration the bifacial gain that the rear side provides. When it's properly used, a bifacial panel proves to be cost-effective-- for example, a 480W bifacial panel with 30% production bonus from the rear side is going to produce more energy than two 300W panels.
